Regency Centers COVID-19 Mask/Social Distancing Policy & Attestation – Effective August 5, 2021

In accordance with the CDC and public department of health guidelines, we no longer require fully vaccinated employees or visitors to wear a mask while in the office unless otherwise required by state or local mandates, and unless social distancing is not possible. All employees and visitors are still required to perform a daily health self-assessment and, if any fever or other symptoms are evident, they should not come into the office.

We operate in many states and we make every effort to apply consistent practices across the country. As such, we now require employees and visitors in each office to submit appropriate attestation to full vaccination (two weeks following their second dose of the Pfizer or Moderna vaccine, or of their single dose of the J&J vaccine). Employees and visitors who have not attested to full vaccination must continue to wear masks and maintain social distancing in the office.

Fully vaccinated employees and visitors should make their own personal decision regarding whether to wear a mask and socially distance while in the office or while performing work on our behalf. Employees and visitors must respect co-workers' and visitors' decisions to wear masks and engage in social distancing regardless of their fully-vaccinated status. We prohibit any form of harassment or retaliation based on a personal decision to wear a mask, even if fully-vaccinated.

Please do not provide any additional medical information when submitting vaccination attestation.
